SUPERVISORS ARE URGED TO BUY WAR BONDS

Adams county townships road supervisors with surplus funds—unused because of curtailed road building programs this year—were urged today to invest the funds in Series F war bonds and hold them as a fund for post-war work when materials will be available and when unemployment may be a problem.

That advice was given the townships officials this morning by H. A. Thomson, Philadelphia, secretary of the road supervisors' association of Pennsylvania, in an address before the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Adams County Township Supervisors and Auditors association being held today in the court house with every township in the county represented. He advised against cutting taxes now because of the current surplus of funds. "After the war will be a bad time to raise taxes," he said.

Thompson also urged the supervisors to complete organization of township councils of defense as part of their responsibility for the "safety and welfare" of the citizens of their respective districts. He suggested that the supervisors include themselves in the membership of the defense councils.

Essay Contest

The state secretary discussed the supervisors' responsibilities and authority under the Anti-Sabotage act. He told them they must use their ingenuity and substitute construction materials to fulfill their responsibilities in war time. He outlined aims of the state supervisors' organization and mentioned their activities in the interest of the forming of township zoning, planning and health boards. He announced the subject for the statewide essay contest sponsored by the road supervisors this year is "How Strong Local Government Safeguards the American Form of Democracy."

O. H. Benson, county salvage chairman, addressed the convention in a plea for "salvage to help win the war" and warned the supervisors that "the war won't be won until the soldiers back home are ready to sacrifice until it hurts."

Eckert Presides

President Harry A. Eckert, Butler township, presided over the convention today. The opening devotion was conducted by the Rev. H. W. Sternat, Biglerville Lutheran pastor.

Just before adjournment at noon today President Eckert named these committees: Resolutions, Fremont W. Weigle, Tyrone township; M. G. Rouzer, Butler township; and Glenn Sachs, Reading township; and nominating, Leo McKenrick, Franklin township; G. H. Fidler, Straban township; and John Taylor, Menallen township.

The convention re-convened at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon with speeches by Francis Worley, assemblyman-elect from York Springs; H. K. Burchfield, district township engineer; and C. H. Hardt, assistant district township engineer, scheduled to be delivered before the final business session at 3:30 o'clock when the report of the resolutions committee will be acted upon and officers will be elected.

Mr. Thomson will conduct a question-box period on supervisors' problems this afternoon.

Miss Hooper died while visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Professor and Mrs. W. A. Kepner, in Charlottesville, Virginia. Death was due to pneumonia and followed a brief illness.

The deceased was a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. William Berrian Hooper, of Gettysburg. Her father once served as rector of the Prince of Peace Episcopal church here.

Mrs. Kepner, a sister, is the only survivor with the exception of two nieces, Mrs. Edwin C. McClintock, of Charlottesville, Virginia, and Mrs. A. J. Short, Richmond, Virginia, and a nephew, Hooper Kepner, Seaford, Delaware.

Interment will be made Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Woodlawn cemetery, New York.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

When Andrew Riley, who conducted a store on North Stratton street, went to war this week he publicly announced that he was closing his store "until after Hitler's funeral."

The announcement, appearing in the display advertisements of The Gettysburg Times, attracted widespread attention and news items of the announcement were published in a number of eastern newspapers.

Riley has the proper spirit, all right, and his patrons will welcome him back when he returns from the war.

The newest, shallow propaganda the Japs are feeding their war-weary folks includes promises of occupying New York, Washington and London, exterminating the United States and Great Britain and overwhelming Australia. The Japs, incidentally, tell their people the United States started the war in fact, they say that we fired the first shot. Remember Pearl Harbor?

A local physician, now in service, sent the following clipping from The Baltimore Sun:

Medication Ration

Oh, I used to call the doctor at the slightest provocation. A headache or a stomach-ache would cause me consternation.

The faintest cough brought visions of advanced tuberculosis.

Oh, before I called the doctor, I had made my diagnosis!

It was doctor this, and doctor that, and "Doctor, I'm so nervous!"

Now it's "Do without the doctor, for the doctor's in the service!"

An earache was a mastoid, or a tumor on the brain.

And some illnesses I'd heard of when there wasn't even pain!

A case of overeating was a cardiac condition.

Results of too much dieting I labeled "malnutrition!"

It was doctor this, and doctor that, and "Doctor, hurry please!"

Now it's "Do without the doctor, for the doctor's overseas!"

Oh, I loved to take my medicine in large or little pills.

I was a willing victim to all of mankind's ills.

If I heard of any symptoms with which my friends had trouble,

I'd promptly call and have the same . . . but I would have them double!

It was doctor this, and doctor that, . . . "Oh, Doctor, come home—quick!"

Ah, how I miss those dear old days . . . those days when I was sick!

COUNTY STEERS WIN PRIZES AT 4-H CLUB MEET

In keen competition with nearly 200 4-H Baby Beef club members from other southeastern Pennsylvania counties, the 29 members of the three Baby Beef clubs in this county captured some of the prizes distributed in war stamps and cash Wednesday at the big 4-H club roundup in Lancaster. The beeves are being sold at auction today.

With a total of 192 purebred Hereford and Angus calves entered in the judging, the Adams countians carried off fourth place in the heavyweight class, seventh place among the middleweight Angus steers and eleventh in the light weight entries.

The highest ranking steer in the Adams county clubs was that of Dale Scott, Gettysburg R. D., which won fourth prize among the heavyweights—those topping 1,150 pounds—and then took a cash award by placing ninth in a group of Angus "specials" which included the top ranking animals from the three weight classes in that breed.

Other Rankings
Only three of the 29 steers from this county were judged among the 30 entries in the lightweight Angus class. The animal of Esther Dellinger, Gettysburg R. 4, placed eleventh; Ethel Asper, York Springs, twenty-second, and Eugene Asper, York Springs, twenty-fourth. The lightweight weighed under 1,050 pounds.

Fourteen Adams county beeves were among the 34 entries in the middleweight class, weighing between 1,050 and 1,150 pounds. They placed as follows: Donald Walton, Hanover R. 4, seventh; Clair Hikes, Gardners, ninth; Ruth Hikes, Gardners, 15th; Paul Dellinger, Gettysburg, 18th; Robert Dellinger, Gettysburg, 19th; Joseph Claybaugh, Littlestown, 22nd; Frank Masemer, York Springs, 24th; Ethel Masemer, York Springs, 26th; Dale Taughnbaugh, Gettysburg, 27th; Ray Reinacker, York Springs, 29th; Dale Reinacker, York Springs, 30th; Violet Masemer, York Springs, 31st; Gene Walker, Gettysburg, 32nd, and Thomas Murren, Hanover, 34th.

Good Quality
Among the 21 heavyweight animals, Adams county members won these positions: Dale Scott, Gettysburg, fourth; Jean Enck, Biglerville, ninth; Kenneth Walton, Hanover, 10th; Louise Hikes, York Springs, 12th; Evelyn Myers, York Springs, 13th; Billy Wilson, Biglerville, 14th; Elmer Appler, Hanover R. D., 15th; Melvin Nace, Hanover, 16th; Armon Hostetter, Littlestown, 17th; Angela Myers, Gettysburg R. D., 19th, and Richard Weaver, Gettysburg R. D., 21st.

In the group of Angus "specials," Dale Scott took ninth place; Donald Walton, Hanover, 13th, and Clair Hikes, Gardners, 19th.

County Agent M. T. Hartman told The Gettysburg Times that the quality of the calves on exhibition at the Lancaster roundup is "exceptionally good" and that the boys and girls of this county are doing "a fine job of exhibiting their animals." Medals for showmanship will be awarded today at Lancaster.

The Lancaster roundup marks the close of the club year in the absence of the annual state farm show at Harrisburg.

$2,000 Damage In Truck Collision

Damage is estimated at $2,000 in the collision Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock between two big trucks and trailers on the Hanover-Carlisle highway, a mile south of Hampton. The crash occurred on a highway made slippery by a light snowfall. Private John M. Micka of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, who investigated, reported today.

The officer has charged James Ferguson, Millerstown, driver of a Baltimore truck involved, with driving too fast for conditions before a nearby justice of the peace. Ferguson suffered leg bruises when his truck struck a tank milk truck operated by Leroy Bennett of Utica, New York.

Private Micka reported that Ferguson was descending a grade when his truck started to skid. When he applied the brakes, the big vehicle swung back and forth on the highway and hit the milk truck which was climbing the grade.

ARREST DESERTER

CLUB WOMEN HEAR REVIEW OF STAGE HIT

The popular stage hit, "Papa Is All," portraying the Pennsylvania Dutch, was reviewed for members of the Women's club of Gettysburg by Dr. Richard A. Arms, dramatics coach and head of the mathematics department at Gettysburg college, at a regular meeting of the club Wednesday afternoon at the YWCA building.

Doctor Arms was introduced by Mrs. Thomas L. Cline, the club's fine arts chairman, as "a gentleman whom I think has done more to create interest in the drama in our college and community than any other person."

Mrs. A. H. Barr, the club president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. John Sanderson served as pianist while the clubwomen sang "Joy to the World." The story of the adaptation was read by Mrs. George R. Larkin and Mrs. Barr led the members in reciting the Americans' Creed.

Mrs. M. K. Eckert, chairman of membership, announced Mrs. Sydney J. Poppay as a new member of the club.

During the business session $2 was voted to the county tuberculosis society's seal sale. Mrs. Henry M. Scharf reported on the exercises held Monday evening at the court house when Adams county received its Scrap Harvest pennant.

Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner asked that more members of the club report at the Red Cross workroom on East High street for duty as volunteers in the folding of surgical dressings.

Mrs. Barr read an article in which a visitor to Britain quoted American soldiers there as naming war bonds and stamps as the ideal Christmas gift this year—"a present with a future."

A war bond and stamp booth operated at the "Y" building during the club session reported the sale of two $25 bonds and $16.50 in war stamps. Mrs. Henry T. Bream called the attention of club members to the current campaign for the collection of nylon and silk hose. A box to receive the hose has been placed at the "Y" building.

To Meet Jan. 13
Then Mrs. Cline presented Doctor Arms who pointed out in his introductory remarks that there have been few successful plays written typifying the generally serious, hardworking Pennsylvania Dutch.

Farm Home Is Razed By Fire
Fire, believed to have started from a defective chimney, destroyed a farm home near New Chester and all of its contents, including all the clothing of the occupants, Wednesday afternoon.

The blaze leveled the home on the farm owned by C. Arthur Brame, Lincolnway east, and tenanted by Mr. and Mrs. John Clapper, Wednesday afternoon while the Clappers were away at work.

Firemen said that they believed the fire started from a defective chimney. When the blaze was discovered by neighbors it had gained considerable headway and when the Hampton fire department arrived the structure was beyond saving.

The dwelling, a two and one-half story structure, was of brick and weather-board construction. It is valued at about $2,000.

Allied Parachutists Cut Way Within 10 Miles Of Tunis Base

(By The Associated Press)

London, Dec. 10.—Allied forces apparently were set today to launch mighty new drives against the Axis in north Africa at any moment in both Libya and Tunisia, under formidable and ever-growing air power.

Reports by the Morocco radio that the Americans and British already had sprung anew to the attack on both sides of the Axis' narrowing last foothold on the Mediterranean's African shore apparently were premature.

Advices from Tunisia, however, indicated that the Allies there no longer were hampered by the pinch for air support and that the crucial battle for the last 20 miles, the approaches to Bizerte and Tunis, might explode at any moment.

No Rest for Enemy
On the opposite side of Africa, a British communiqué said the Eighth Army was "allowing the enemy no rest in the El Aghella area."

This was the strongest language used officially since the British paused before Nazi Marshal Rommel's long-prepared line but it referred, still, only to patrol and artillery activity and British military sources in London said it did not mean that the westward offensive again was under way.

When the Eighth Army smashes into the enemy's Libyan line, these sources said, its blows will leave no doubt that it was hit in force again—and that might be any day.

In Tunisia, the Allies and Germans both were reported probing cautiously for weak spots and speeding preparations for the decisive battle.

Reports of Allied air blows, both destructive offensive smashes and successful defensive air fighting with evidently plentiful and well-varied warplanes, indicated that air mastery was swinging back to the Allies.

10 Miles from Tunis
When the British and Americans closed virtually to the thresholds of Tunis and Bizerte their drive was handicapped by the lack of adequate air bases close to the front. Now, however, Associated Press reports tell of ground commanders telephoning for air coverage as casually as calling for a taxi.

Again, British headquarters reported that Allied twin-engine fighters—probably American P-38 Lightnings—had pounced on an enemy air convoy northbound from Africa and had shot down two German transport planes near Lampedusa island, between Sicily and Tunisia.

A Reuters report said Allied paratroopers had penetrated within 10 miles of Tunis and carried out a series of demolitions southwest of the Tunisian capital.

USO FUND NOW TOTALS $7,457

Additional contributions to the USO fund from many sections of the county were announced today by Mrs. Ellen Tipton Buehler, USO treasurer, who said the current total is $7,457.43.

Today's list includes an additional $56.78 from Littlestown, reported by Mrs. J. R. Riden, chairman. St. John's Lutheran church at Littlestown gave $25.61 of that sum while the Littlestown Ministerium gave $10.37 and St. Mark's Reformed church there collected $6.50.

Additional donors from Gettysburg include Dr. Roy W. Gifford, Dr. R. D. Wickerham, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Kime, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole, Luther McDonnell and Mrs. Luther McDonnell.

The scrap drive conducted by the Orrtanna grammar school netted $4 for the USO and the Upper Adams Lions club at Biglerville contributed $5.

Mrs. Mary Kennedy and Albert Kennedy were listed as additional donors from Arendtsville.

Aircraft Spotters To Meet Here Friday

Aircraft spotter stations in this section of Adams county will be inspected by Army personnel as a preliminary to a meeting to be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the court house at which Army representatives will explain the importance and functions of the Aircraft Warning Service.

Volunteers who have signed for duty as observers in the spotter station here are urged to attend the Friday evening session.

The board also announced that Harold Russell Shetter, East Berlin, has enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps.

ALL OFFICERS RE-ELECTED BY FIRE COMPANY

Gettysburg firemen re-elected their entire staff of officers without a contest at the regular December meeting Wednesday evening at the engine house.

The list of present officers, all retained for another year by unanimous vote of the company, follows: President, James B. Aumen; vice president, Donald C. Stallsmith; recording secretary, S. Richard Eisenhart; financial secretary, George D. March; treasurer, Joseph E. Codori; chief, James A. Aumen; first assistant chief, Paul A. Oyler; second assistant, Donald Jacobs; chaplain, B. D. Gilbert, and drillmaster, Raymond Bisbing. Lester Stary was named as the representative to the Southeastern Pennsylvania Firemen's association.

All Unopposed
Two men had been nominated for each office last month but when the time for balloting arrived, one candidate withdrew from each contest leaving the incumbent unopposed.

President Aumen named D. C. Stallsmith, S. Richard Eisenhart and Richard Cole to audit the 1942 accounts of the company.

The company accepted with a rising vote of thanks a check for $25 from Miss Virginia Myers in appreciation of the firemen's services at a recent fire. The firemen purchased 200 Christmas seals from the county tuberculosis society and granted Fireman Charles W. Sterner, Jr., a six-month leave of absence because he is now employed in Baltimore.

The name of Walter T. Bash, Jr., was proposed for membership in the company. With no vacancies existing now, the application was placed on the waiting list.

The next meeting of the fire company will be held Wednesday, January 13.

FACTORY OPENS IN TWO WEEKS

Fairfield's new shoe factory will be operating in two weeks. L. E. Beaudin, president of the Beaudin Shoe company of Hanover, told members of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Wednesday evening in the community hall which will house the community's first factory.

Mr. Beaudin said that electric motors are expected from Philadelphia this week to power the factory machines and that work tables for the new shops in the basement of the community building already are being placed. The factory which is expected to have a capacity of producing 5,000 pairs of women's shoes per week will employ 100 men and women. Chamber officials have announced.

Many Seek Work
Chamber officers said that many applications for employment in the town's new industry are being received and there appears to be no danger of a labor shortage for the factory. The community in general is displaying great interest and enthusiasm in the new project and Chamber leaders are receiving pledges of cooperation from many quarters.

The Chamber will incorporate, it has been announced, as the membership campaign progresses. There are now 102 residents of the community enrolled as members.

ENEMY'S GRIP IS SLASHED TO STRIP OF COAST

Melbourne, Dec. 10 (AP)—Complete occupation of the Gona area of New Guinea by Allied forces directed in the field by General Douglas MacArthur himself was announced today.

The Japanese thus lost the northern anchor of their stubbornly defended but ever-narrowing beachhead in Papua, a foothold already cut into segments by Australian and American jungle fighters.

Prime Minister John Curtin made the first announcement of the Gona conquest in the midst of a war review before the House of Representatives in Canberra, the Federal capital.

His victory news came 16 days after an Allied headquarters communiqué had announced the original Australian entry into Gona, testifying to the resistance put up by the Japanese.

Hold Narrow Strip
Gona's fall left the Japanese pinned down in a narrow strip of coast centering on the Buna area, some 12 miles to the south.

The Japanese first landed at Gona on July 22 and from the Gona-Buna beachhead started their invasion drive which carried across the Owen Stanley mountains to within 32 miles of Port Moresby, Allied base, before they were halted.

Earlier today the regular communiqué from Allied headquarters in Australia announced that Allied troops had thwarted the Japanese in an attempt to break out of the Gona trap under cover of darkness, killing 95 of the enemy and capturing four. Eighteen more were killed and three captured in another clash a short time later. More than 400 Japanese had been reported slain in this area in recent weeks.

Gain at Buna
The same bulletin reported that Allied forces had gained further ground in their attacks on the Japanese at Buna and that they were continuing to press home their attacks with strong air support.

Allied headquarters also announced that American Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers had scored a signal victory over a formation of Japanese fighters in a furious duel off the coast of New Britain, shooting down 10 of the enemy planes and damaging four others so badly they probably crashed.

"All our planes returned," the communiqué said.

The air battle developed in conjunction with a heavy Allied bombing assault on the Japanese air-drome at Gasmata, New Britain, unloading 500-pound bombs in dispersal bays and causing considerable damage.

There were no further reports concerning the whereabouts of six Japanese destroyers which were driven off earlier in the week in an attempt to land reinforcements in the Buna area.

NOT HAMSTRUNG
Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—A Federal Grand Jury today reported it had found "wholly unwarranted and without any basis in fact" charges by U. S. Commissioner Sidney E. Friedman that government agents were "hamstrung" in their investigation of charges of fraud and bribery at the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply depot.

WHITE TANKS, SKI TROOPERS POUND GERMANS

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Dec. 10 (AP)—Red Army ski troops, supported by lumbering tanks painted white to blend with the snow, struck at German communications in sectors on the central front while in the areas near Stalingrad the Russians continued their winter offensive which entered its fourth week today.

(The German communiqué said that Russian forces had broken into German lines between the Volga and Don rivers but declared they had been surrounded and wiped out.)

In the Velikie Luki area, far west of Moscow, the Germans were reported to have thrown a regiment of infantry, with the support of several dozen tanks, against Soviet forces which had cut a highway.

Germans Retreat
Disparages from the front said that the Russians repulsed several counterattacks, and threw their ski troops into the fray. Artillery and trench mortars were used to pound the enemy into retreat and then the Germans were driven from a nearby settlement.

Red Star, the Soviet Army newspaper, reported that in a battle west of Rzhev the Germans fled in disorder for the protection of a forest when Russian troops breached their defenses. Soviet ski troops pursued the enemy, mowing many down before they reached cover, Red Star said.

It asserted that the Russians did not lose a single soldier in this engagement but that the Germans lost 17 dead in addition to prisoners. Reinforcements brought in by the Germans on the central front were declared by Red Star to be generally middle-aged men, some of whom had been trained for only 10 to 20 days before they reached the front.

Artillery Vs. Tanks
However, Red Star was quick to point out, many units which have been brought in to the Rzhev-Vyazma-Velikie Luki region are made up of well-trained fighting men taken from other fronts.

In clashes northwest of Stalingrad Soviet heavy artillery was reported being turned against German tanks with deadly results. The fact that tanks of both sides were able to maneuver in the snows of the steppe indicated that the snow was packing down giving the tanks an opportunity to operate, although it was considered doubtful here that lighter mechanized stock was able to shake loose from drifts from the heavy snowfall earlier in the week.

REPORTER MAY BECOME FOOD DISTRIBUTOR

By OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, Dec. 10 (AP)—A former newspaperman once assigned to report the activities of the Agriculture department may become food distribution chief under Secretary Wickard's new wartime food program.

He is 39-year-old Roy F. Hendrickson, now administrator of the department's agricultural marketing administration, an agency which has been buying vast quantities of food for shipment abroad under lend-lease.

Associates of Wickard said Hendrickson was in line for appointment as director of the food distribution administration which will be set up under President Roosevelt's order conferring broad food control authority on Wickard.

Former Reporter

The order also authorized creation of a food production administration. Several persons were reported under consideration by Wickard for that directorship. They include J. B. Hutson, president of the department's Commodity Credit Corporation, Senator Josh Lee, Oklahoma Democrat defeated for re-election at the November election, and H. W. Parisins, associate director of the department's office of agricultural war relations.

Hendrickson, reared on an Iowa farm, covered the department as a reporter for The Associated Press during the early days of the Roosevelt administration. He joined the department's staff as an information man and later became chief of its office of personnel. Last year he was appointed marketing administrator. In the latter post he has had charge of military and lend-lease food buying programs involving the expenditure of more than a billion dollars a year.

$20,000 Damage Action Is Denied

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Marco Mastrandrea gave his life to save a group of school children, but the knowledge that he died a hero must remain his widow's only compensation.

Mastrandrea, a watchman at a Pennsylvania railroad crossing in Carnegie, Pa., stepped into the path of a freight locomotive on February 24, 1939, to keep several neighborhood children from crossing. He was struck and killed.

His widow sued for $20,000 damages. Yesterday, the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals said in a formal opinion that Mastrandrea was "truly heroic," but that there was no basis for Mrs. Mastrandrea's action.

The Federal Employers Liability act, under which the suit was filed requires proof of negligence on the part of an employer or employees, the court pointed out, and no such proof was indicated.

The court took the unprecedented action of suggesting in its ruling that Congress pass a law covering such cases.

JAPAN PAID 50,000 YEN TO GANGSTERS

By FRANK CAREY

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 10 (AP)—How a "pay-off" of 50,000 yen was made by the Japanese government to the Nipponese "underworld" in the early part of the century to prevent alterations with American visitors that might have led to war then was related today by Albert Bushnell Hart, professor emeritus of history at Harvard.

"I got the story from an attaché of the American embassy in Japan soon after the incident occurred, and I don't believe it ever has been told," said the 88-year-old, white-haired professor in an interview.

"I was in Japan at the time the 'good-will fleet' sponsored by President Theodore Roosevelt stopped at Yokohama.

Paid to Stop Fleet

"I heard reports that shortly before the fleet landed, a representative of the underworld gang—went to officials of the government and said in substance: 'There will be hundreds of Americans coming off those ships and circulating about in this area. What's it worth to keep us from starting trouble?'

"My information was to the effect that the Japanese officials said it was worth 50,000 yen to them to prevent any outbreaks that might possibly lead to an 'incident' with the United States, because the last thing they wanted then was to have any trouble with our country. They weren't ready then.

"The story went that the 50,000 yen was paid over to the gang leader, and there was no trouble when the fleet landed x x x.

"It was mighty cheap for the Japanese government to get off with this," said Hart. "And it's not impossible that the gang which was 'paid-off' had something to do with events that led up to Pearl Harbor."

streets. There are more than a dozen areas in town where, after the slightest rain, pedestrians are forced to make wide detours to cross streets. Water gathers at some intersections, from four to eight inches deep because of lack of proper or sufficient drainage facilities.

Council would do well to make an immediate and thorough study of the situation and take steps to alleviate the inconvenience.

Kent Cooper, General Manager of The Associated Press, in his recent book "Barriers Down" advocates inclusion of the following five points for press freedom in the peace treaty after the war:

"First, guarantee freedom of the press throughout the world as we know it;

"Second, guarantee that at least one news agency in each country be owned and controlled mutually by the newspapers it serves;

"Third, guarantee that each agency may make such international news exchange arrangements as it chooses;

"Fourth, guarantee equality to all in the matter of availability of all official news and transmission facilities; and

"Fifth, prohibit the intentional covert inclusion in any news-service of biased international propaganda."

Train Sealed In

Tunnel Near Paris

London, Dec. 10 (AP)—An RAF Mosquito bomber, shuttling between the entrances of a railroad tunnel 40 miles northwest of Paris in a dusk attack yesterday, apparently sealed a train inside, the air ministry said today.

The flier, it said, neatly laid one bomb at a mouth of the tunnel and then, noting that a train was entering from the other side, bombed that entrance also.

The ministry said the train was bottled up, at least temporarily, and did not appear from either end during the 10 minutes that the Mosquito hovered over the tunnel.

The flier said smoke poured from the first entrance bombed.

Girl Hurt When

Struck By Auto

Jean Moser, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moser, 222 East Middle street, suffered a bad laceration of the right leg when she was struck by a car as she was crossing Chambersburg street near center square about 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday evening.

Borough Officer Lloyd E. Wisler, who is investigating the mishap, said that Wendell Smith, 19, 328 York street, was the driver of the car that hit the girl. Smith is reported to have been in the act of passing another machine, also traveling toward the square, when his machine struck the Moser girl as she crossed from the south to the north side of the street.

Smith took the injured girl to the office of Dr. C. H. Johnson and later she was removed to the Warner hospital where she was admitted as a patient.

Strickler was able to climb from the wreckage of his plane after it was demolished when it crashed into a barn on the C. Before striking the barn the plane cut 4,600-volt light lines and hit the top of a tree.

Connie Mack, 80 Years Old December 23, Hopes To Win Another Pennant

GENIAL CHIEF OF ATHLETICS IS OPTIMISTIC

By TED MEIER

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Connie Mack will celebrate his 80th birthday December 23 "in the pink" of condition and hopeful as ever of winning another American league pennant with his now last place Athletics.

A grandfather of 14 children, 11 boys and three girls, the "grand old gentleman" of baseball, an idol to thousands of kiddies and grown-up fans throughout the country, emphatically has NOT given up hope of building another winner to rival his great clubs of the 1910-14 and 1929-31 eras.

"If I had that thought in mind, I wouldn't be here," he declared in an interview in his tower office at Shibe park. "I know our club next year will be weak, but we're NOT breaking it up. The war is breaking it up for us."

Inductions Hurt

"I thought we might do something last summer," he went on. "I thought we would be pretty good, but that was before the armed services took Sammy Chapman, Jack Wallasea, Benny McCoy, Al Brancato and Don Richmond. That was the ball club."

Richmond, rookie from Williamsport of the Eastern league, was regarded by Mack as a "coming great third baseman." Wallasea was a rookie from Wilmington, Delaware, whom Mack called "the shortstop of the league." Chapman was a heavy-hitting outfielder and McCoy and Brancato veteran infielders.

Future Doubtful

Seated in an office chair from which he has passed judgment on thousands of ball players, Mack smiled and continued: "Still you never know what will happen when things are like this. The other clubs will be affected, too."

Mack has spent 58 years in baseball, during which time the national pastime has survived three wars and the world series scandal of 1919. He expressed the opinion that baseball would continue as usual in 1943 and that after the war, the game "will be better than ever."

Want Baseball

"I have been getting word," he explained, "that there are thousands of young soldiers in camps who have the makings of good players. The boys, I understand, look first at the sports pages of the newspapers they get. The business man at home looks first at page one, then turns to the sports section. I believe the people will want baseball as usual next year. In traveling, I think it can be arranged so that one club will get one pullman car for all its players. In the past we had two or three cars."

The gracious old gentleman took a bat out of a closet and started swinging it, perhaps thinking back to the days when he caught, and was permitted to catch the ball on one bounce behind the plate. He grasped the bat with two hands at the end to get a full swing.

Hold Bat High

"Always hold the bat high," Connie said, giving a tip to future sluggers. "Many minor league players hold the bat low. But you get by the time you swing the bat back in position they'll get the ball by you."

"I don't know how I look," he continued, walking around the office, "but I never felt better in my life. I'm in the pink. You know I was in pretty bad shape four years ago, but I have improved gradually every year since. I was lucky in overcoming an illness like that (stomach ailment) at my age."

"The secret is treating yourself right," Mack explained. "Any man over 50 should be careful not to overexert himself; he should be careful about food and careful about rest."

Total Abstinence

Connie, tall and lean, never smokes and hasn't had a "drink of intoxicating liquor in the last seven or eight years." The only exercise he gets is his "mad dash" from the A's dugout immediately after a game to an elevator that whisks him to his office. This involves climbing about 12 steps from the dugout and negotiating a distance of some 25 yards to the elevator.

"I used to play golf until about six or seven years ago," he grinned. "I liked to play with Mickey Cochran and Jimmy Dykes. They walked fast and I liked to keep up with them. I don't exercise any more."

As in the past, Connie puts in a full day at his office, winter and summer. There is only one change in the routine. He recently moved from his Germantown house to an apartment building where "everything is on one floor."

Up at 8 A. M.

Up at 8 a. m. ("that's really 7 a. m. because we're on war time," Connie grinned) Mack bathes and shaves. At 9 a. m. he breakfasts on fruit (baked apple or prunes), hot cereal (oatmeal or cream of wheat) and a cup of coffee. Departing for the office he carries his lunch. This consists of soup in a

Sportsmen Favor Retaining Moltz

Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—Two officials of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen clubs have protested removal of Harold Moltz, Williamsport, from the State Game commission.

Governor James yesterday appointed Carl W. Rothfuss, Williamsport insurance man, to the commission, succeeding Moltz, appointed last August.

In a joint statement from Williamsport, Dale Furst, chairman of the central division of the Federation, and John C. Youngman, former Federation head, said they did not "approve of removing a member of the commission without the reason for his removal being given," and added:

"We do not understand why Mr. Moltz should have been removed from the commission since he never had a chance to vote on any measure that has come before the commission since his appointment."

WHIRLAWAY MAY CRACK RECORD

New Orleans, Dec. 10 (AP)—Whirlaway won't put a lot of blue chips on his record money winning stack here Saturday if he takes the $15,000 added Louisiana handicap, but he should be forced by a field of sharp competitors to break the 26-year-old mile and a quarter fair ground record.

"Mr. Big Tail" stepped that distance in 2:03 3-5 in the Washington handicap at Laurel in October. If the track is fast, the Calumet Farm's champion, or his conqueror, should shatter the record of 2:04 3-5 set by Brynalmah at the fair grounds in 1916.

Warren Wright's charger, carrying top weight of 130 pounds, is expected to find the medium-lengthed fair grounds stretch to his liking and add about $12,000 to his already bulging bankroll of $548,461. Sharpest of his competitors appears to be Joe W. Brown's 3-year-old Brownie, a triple fair grounds winner, followed closely by Louisiana Pumps' Riverland and Coward and Dupuy's Marriage, both conquerors of Alsab this year.

New Treatment For Tularemia

Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Department of Health today disclosed it now can dispense an active, specific antiserum to treat tularemia, or rabbit fever.

Dr. A. H. Stewart, health secretary, said there were 45 cases and seven deaths from the disease in Pennsylvania last year. Carried by rabbits, squirrels and other warm-blooded wild animals, tularemia may be transmitted to human beings through handling diseased carcasses or by bites.

He said the serum, developed by Dr. Lee Foshay of Cincinnati, is most effective if given before the 12th day of infection but is still of use 10 months after the disease is contracted.

container and a sandwich, usually chicken, dried beef or roast beef. He rests from 15 minutes to half an hour after lunch. Sometimes he passes this up in the off-season, but never during the summer. "Once I used to work right up to the time of the game," he explained. "I found myself becoming tired about the fourth or fifth inning. Now I feel refreshed when the game starts."

Dinner is his "big meal," but he doesn't "crowd it anymore."

"I always get up when I could eat more," he explained. "No more fancy dishes, such as lobster. I stick to the plain foods, things that I can digest."

After dinner, Mack reads the newspapers "thoroughly" and his favorite magazines. He listens a lot to the radio and terms it a "great thing." He is a movie fan, too, and especially likes "good acting."

He usually is in bed by midnight. Mack, who as manager and president does virtually everything except play for the Athletics, called Ty Cobb the greatest player he has ever seen and Jimmy Foxx the most versatile. He also pointed out that Jimmy Dykes was versatile, but never pitched as Foxx. The latter, who ranks second only to Babe Ruth as a slugger, has played every position.

He was asked if he ever thought of picking an all-time, all-star major league team. "Well," he mused, "that would require a lot of thought and be almost sure to do someone an injustice. I think it would be better to pick all-star teams every ten years, instead of covering a period of 50 years or more."

Greatest Team

The Athletics of 1912 was Connie's "greatest team" even though they lost the pennant. "We could have won five pennants in a row," he recalled. "But after winning in 1910 and 1911, quite a feat in those days, the boys got the feeling they couldn't lose and so were beaten out for the flag."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Pacific coast entry in the Rose Bowl game, regardless of what team is picked, likely will hand over a big wad of dough to some war relief organization.

Details won't be announced until the coast conference holds its meeting this weekend, but the plans calls for Georgia to get its hundred grand guarantee and the other coast colleges to collect their usual cuts with the "lucky" team that gets the bowl bid doing the contributing. . . . Looks from here as though that calls for some fast thinking by Georgia and all the other colleges that have received bowl bids. . . . And the P.G.A. is drawing up plans for a nation-wide charity exhibition program for next year that will make this year's fundraising efforts look sick. Bing Crosby and Bob Hope again will be the big attractions for non-golfers.

UNAPPRECIATED PROPHET

Ed Shugrue of the Bridgeport (Conn.) Post reports that he recently received a letter from Pvt. A bit proud, Ed showed the letter around the office only to have his boss chime in with the unkindest cut of all—"I never knew the leathernecks were also collecting scrap."

One reason why visiting basketball teams will stay at a hotel right across the street from Madison Square Garden this winter is that they're not sure the Garden will be able to heat the dressing rooms.

Although Eddie Shore had to move his hockey team out of Springfield, Mass., the fans still like him so much that about 600 of them made a 60-mile trip to New Haven recently to see Shore's Buffalo outfit play there. . . . Another story out of Chicago baseball meetings is that Clark Griffith tried to trade Bruce Campbell, not knowing that Bruce was in the Army. . . . Three of the eight schools in the northern Minnesota Junior College conference gave up basketball this year because of transportation and lack of players, but Ely Junior college decided to keep on with only eight candidates for the team.

TIGERS TO SELL LAST PIECE OF FARM PROPERTY

Detroit, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers had the sole remaining piece of property from a once extensive farm system up for sale today and from all indications the club was through with chain store baseball for keeps.

General Manager Jack Zeller disclosed that the Tigers would sell next Tuesday their Texas league franchise at Beaumont where in a dozen years of operation Detroit developed Hank Greenberg, Schoolboy Rowe, Barney McCosky and other talent for three American league pennant winners.

Zeller said the Tigers already had liquidated their Piedmont league holdings at Winston-Salem, N. C.

"We believe the future of minor league baseball lies in local ownership," Zeller declared. "In wartime particularly, there is no reason for big league teams to own and operate farm ventures because the chance to develop young talent, sole reason for farms, is eliminated by the draft."

The Tigers plan to dispose of the Beaumont franchise, valued at $20,000, to Ernest (Dutch) Lorbeer, club president. The Tigers paid $40,000 for the property in 1930 and poured in many times that amount to wipe out deficits.

Will Double Plane Output

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 10 (AP)—Studebaker corporation, currently producing Wright cyclone motors on a mass production basis, plans to double its output of the Flying Fortress power plants by next summer.

H. S. Vance, chairman of the board of the corporation, disclosed plans Wednesday after showing a group of news writers through his company's aircraft engine factory on South Bend's south side where the big radial aviation engines are being produced through the adaptation of automobile assembly line technique.

The monthly output of the engines, just a phase of Studebaker's war production effort, was not made known. It may be said, however, that hundreds of units are rolling out of the factory each week.

It was the first formal disclosure, incidentally, of the work being done on the site of a one-time sprawling cornfield. Vance, in discussing an achievement described in automotive circles as the biggest of its kind within the industry, emphasized that it was made possible through the cooperation of the Wright Aeronautical corporation.

REDSKINS ARE READY TO MEET CHICAGO BEARS

By PAT O'BRIEN

Washington, Dec. 10 (AP)—You can't tell what'll happen when two tough outfits clash, so don't sell the Washington Redskins short.

That's the attitude of the Redskins, eastern division champions of the National football league, as they gird themselves to meet the Chicago Bears, western titleholders and defending kingpins of the pro football world, in the playoff here Sunday.

Coach Ray Flaherty of the Redskins is tired of hearing of that 73-0 shellacking the Washingtons took the last time (1940) they met the Bears in a playoff.

"We've got a big, hard-charging line, a swell passer in Baugh and good running backs in Andy Farkas and Ray Hare, and we've got some pretty fair blocking along with it," Flaherty said.

Redskins Serious

The Redskins, tearing up the practice dirt at Griffith stadium where more than 35,000 fans will watch them perform against the Bears, are more than serious as they prepare for the Chicagoans.

"We've got to be in the best possible condition for those birds, but we aren't yielding them a thing," opined Glen (Turk) Edwards, Washington's assistant coach.

Nobody hereabouts, least of all the betting boys, is underselling the Bears. They know about their record, and of the exploits of Bill Osmanski, Gary Farnigletti, Sid Luckman, Bulldog Turner, Lee Artzo, and the rest. But everyone, from Flaherty and Washington owner George P. Marshall Down, promises there'll be no repetition of that 73-0 debacle.

General Manager Jack Zeller disclosed that the Tigers would sell next Tuesday their Texas league franchise at Beaumont where in a dozen years of operation Detroit developed Hank Greenberg, Schoolboy Rowe, Barney McCosky and other talent for three American league pennant winners.

Zeller said the Tigers already had liquidated their Piedmont league holdings at Winston-Salem, N. C.

"We believe the future of minor league baseball lies in local ownership," Zeller declared. "In wartime particularly, there is no reason for big league teams to own and operate farm ventures because the chance to develop young talent, sole reason for farms, is eliminated by the draft."

The Tigers plan to dispose of the Beaumont franchise, valued at $20,000, to Ernest (Dutch) Lorbeer, club president. The Tigers paid $40,000 for the property in 1930 and poured in many times that amount to wipe out deficits.

Will Double Plane Output

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 10 (AP)—Studebaker corporation, currently producing Wright cyclone motors on a mass production basis, plans to double its output of the Flying Fortress power plants by next summer.

H. S. Vance, chairman of the board of the corporation, disclosed plans Wednesday after showing a group of news writers through his company's aircraft engine factory on South Bend's south side where the big radial aviation engines are being produced through the adaptation of automobile assembly line technique.

The monthly output of the engines, just a phase of Studebaker's war production effort, was not made known. It may be said, however, that hundreds of units are rolling out of the factory each week.

It was the first formal disclosure, incidentally, of the work being done on the site of a one-time sprawling cornfield. Vance, in discussing an achievement described in automotive circles as the biggest of its kind within the industry, emphasized that it was made possible through the cooperation of the Wright Aeronautical corporation.

Massive antlers of the American elk are tipped with as many as seven points each.

Cabbage contains from 10 to 15 pounds of water for each pound of dry matter.

"Bugling" is the term used to describe the challenge issued by bull elk to their rivals.

Good Hunting For Those Who Worked

Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—The state Game commission reports that the 12-day deer season, which ends Saturday, has been more than "satisfactory" for hunters who were "willing to work hard."

Good tracking snows in many sections of the state, the commission added, will probably bring large numbers of hunters out for the closing days.

Seth Gordon, commission official, said men who hunted hard found "a plentiful amount of healthy deer with large tracks."

BENDER CLAIMS OLDER PLAYERS NEED TO RELAX

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Those gags about grandpa playing big league baseball next season aren't funny at all to Charles Albert (Chief) Bender, the Philadelphia Athletics' great Indian pitcher of an era gone by.

In fact, if the tall, lean Chippewa is correct, middle-aged men could give the fans as good a baseball game in war time as younger men do in peace if the oldsters learn just one thing—how to slay the heebie-jeebies.

"Men can play top-notch ball, or excel in any other line of sport, until they are well beyond 40 if they learn to relax," the chief says. "If they conquered taut nerves there would be no such thing as 'burning out,' or 'going stale,' no such thing as stomach and nervous breakdowns."

Advice for All

"My advice to anyone in sports—in fact to any man in business who is under pressure—is to learn to take the steel springs off his nerves."

It sounds strange coming from the baseball immortal whom Connie Mack called "the greatest money pitcher of all time, the coolest cucumber I ever saw"—and the man who cracked up suddenly before Boston in the 1914 World series and promptly left the A's.

But the chief explains: "I was always nervous like anyone else—maybe twice as nervous—only I couldn't let it out. Indians can't."

Cured for Quarter

"After I left the A's my nerves got worse," he recalls. "The acid in my stomach made it impossible to eat. I got thinner and thinner. I broke out in a rash, which several doctors said was the hives, and I spent hundreds of dollars. This lasted until 1918 when I accidentally ran into a doctor in Germantown who cured me for a quarter. He gave me soda mints. But if only I had learned before how to relax—"

The Chief, still militarily erect, is now in his 49th year. He is a clothing salesman here. Often since his big league career ended he has been connected with minor league clubs as coach or manager.

BOWLING TITLE SOUGHT BY 100

Chicago, Dec. 10 (AP)—The nation's leading bowlers, without their annual ABC event to look forward to, are going all out in their pin blasting at the Chicago all star tournament.

And leading the way as the elimination round entered its final phase today was Lany Buddy Bomar of Houston, Texas.

Bomar, certain to qualify for the 12 man round robin finals which will run through Friday, Saturday and Sunday and will determine the 1943 match game champion, already has turned in such feats as:

Two of the highest five game series—1188 and 1129; high single game—290; longest streak without an "open" frame—62, and highest average for the first 25 games—212.

Six in the field of 100 competing for a chance at Ned Day's match game crown all own better than 200 average, which is better than Day himself has been able to muster in his 90 game title match with Johnny Crimmins of Detroit.

Day held a commanding lead of 338.40 points to Crimmins' 324.14 in their separate battle, which also ends today. The winner will pocket $1,500 and the loser $750, but both will compete in the 12 man finals where another $1,500 first prize awaits the victor.

Charging Bruin Killed; Fined $25

Williamsport, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Arthur S. Thompson, New York city hunter, stopped a charging bear just 30 feet from him—and has a receipt for a $25 fine to prove it.

Thompson, hunting deer, killed the 420-pound bruin as it charged toward him, he told the state Game commission. Officials checked tracks in the snow and substantiated his statement but levied a fine—bears are out of season.

BIGLERVILLE, EAST BERLIN CLASH FRIDAY

Biglerville high school's basketball teams will open their season Friday evening by meeting East Berlin high at East Berlin. Both boys' and girls' teams will play.

Coach Ellis McCracken has two regulars remaining from last year's team, Dean Carey and Tom Yost. In addition he has Kenneth Lawver, Leroy Routsong and Fred Slaybaugh who were members of the varsity squad. Remaining from the reserves are Leo Klinefelter, Frederick Kuntz, Gerald Heller, William Jester and Robert Stenier. Ned Walter, Ralph Sandoe, Junior Walter and Eddie Utz around out the squad.

Improvement is almost certain at Biglerville this year. Last year's team won but two games. Five players were lost from last year's first string squad including Settle, Smallwood and Thomas, regulars.

Seven of a squad of 12 are remaining from last year's girls' varsity squad. They are Doris Dugan, Doris McBeth and Pauline Routsong, seniors, and Treva Boyer, Betty Roddy, Ruth Rice and Marion Wolf, juniors.

A squad of 30 candidates is drilling under the direction of Coach Samuel Ehlman. In addition to those already mentioned the more promising candidates include Jean McCauslin, Barbara Kleinfelter, Joyce Keiler, Mae Kuhn, Mary Roddy and Helen McCauslin.

SAYS FARMERS WILL GET AID

Chicago, Dec. 10 (AP)—American farmers, rolling up their sleeves for a record-breaking production job next year, may expect to have a measure of help from government and industry, Eric A. Johnston, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, said Wednesday.

"Without being too optimistic, let me say that the prospects for a decrease in some of the farmer's difficulties are brighter than they were a short time ago," Johnston told the 24th annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"Put it this way," he said in his prepared address. "Obstacles to farm production stand a chance of being reduced, but you will continue to work under grave handicaps until victory."

Johnston pointed out that the Selective Service system was being stabilized and said greater recognition should soon be given the farmer's manpower problem. "Release of available farm workers from the Army on furlough to help relieve the manpower shortage and produce food for victory should have the immediate consideration of Army and Selective Service officials," he said.

"The steel and other basic industries are in a better position to meet wartime demands than they were a few months ago. A wartime demand of the first magnitude is that of farmers for machinery and equipment. Whenever steel and other materials become available, I believe farmers should be among the first

BOWLERS BOWL DESPITE BLAZE

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Some of the games really get hot in the Wissahickon War Workers' bowling league.

While eight matches were under way, fire broke out on their club's tar-paper roof and black smoke billowed over the alleys.

But 100 choking spectators kept their seats—and, between coughs, players went on playing.

A war plant fire guard doused the fire.

HOCKEY FANS SUPPORT GAME

New York, Dec. 10 (AP)—National league hockey, picked by many to be the first major sports casualty of the war, is zooming along at an attendance pace only 9 per cent behind last year's record figures, an Associated Press survey reveals.

Surprisingly enough, three of the league's six clubs actually are ahead of the 1941 marks while Toronto virtually is even with them and only Boston and Chicago are trailing. The latter two clubs are tied for the league top in the standings.

Boston reported the greatest decline, showing a drop of 23,000 from the 77,000 figures of a year ago. Chicago's loss was an estimated 5,000 while Detroit contributed an increase of 13,500.

In all, the six clubs revealed that the first 41 games of the present campaign attracted 431,552 spectators as compared to the 441,602 who passed through the turnstiles in the same number of games a year ago. A recent survey showed that attendance at football games was 19 per cent below that of 1941.

to have their needs met for food-producing machinery and equipment."

SPORT SHORTS

Towanda, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Marshall Shoemaker rose early, dressed warmly, packed his lunch and went out to hunt deer.

He was back in five minutes—with a six-point buck.

He had barely opened his front door when the animal dashed across his path. He brought it down with one shot.

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—An old outfielder offered his services to Connie Mack yesterday and, despite the war-time shortage of ball players, the Philadelphia Athletics manager only smiled.

Writing that he had just celebrated his 50th wedding anniversary at Vincennes, Ind., 70-year-old Ollie Pickering, who played on Mack's 1903-04 team, wisecracked about baseball's manpower shortage:

"If you need a good man, Connie, just let me know."

Connie wired congratulations.

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 10 (AP)—The Tennessee and Tulsa football teams, opponents in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl New Year's Day, are using the movies to get a squirt at each other's players.

The Tennessee Athletic association has mailed Tulsa officials movies of the Vanderbilt and Kentucky games, which the Vols won. Coach John Barnhill said Tulsa's movies had not yet arrived for study.

Atlanta, Dec. 10 (AP)—Because of transportation problems, the Georgia Tech football team will leave Atlanta in three groups along different routes for the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, Tex., New Year's Day.

The first group will depart on Christmas Day with the other two following the next day. All will meet in Dallas Dec. 28 for the first Texas practice.

THE WRITING PASSION

Come now, be watchful! guard paper and pen!

Don't leave a pencil about in the den!

Look out for crayon and chalk, and beware

Of that upper vest pocket for danger is there;

Danger of tablecloth, book page and wall!

Ellen Elizabeth's started to scrawl.

Take every volume from tables and stands.

Don't leave the inkwell in reach of her hands!

Pick up the Bible and place it on high.

Surely the angels will understand why.

If she gets hold of it havoc will fall.

Ellen Elizabeth's started to scrawl.

Some of our treasures in good leather bound

Now have been covered with straight lines and round.

Ink on the carpets and marks on the spread.

Wallpaper ruined with circles of red

Prove that we now must be vigilant all.

THE TEACHINGS OF THE PAST

Every bit of progress made in this world is a distillation of the experiences, attempts, and successes of the past. But this is no reason why we should hold to any blind reverence for the past. Nor to any of its ideas, proven as out of fitting to the problems that face us now.

All progress is measured by tiny steps to some thing better or higher. Broad sweeps of gain only come when emergencies compel, when danger to freedom appears, or when the moral fibre of people becomes infected with irreligious and character-destroying germs.

A broad and careful study of the history of the past is essential to a full appreciation of the possibilities for today and tomorrow. Basic ideas and principles never go out of date—but an improvement on their application is forever in order. Probably the greatest and most useful of all inventions was that of the wheel. It has revolutionized the life of the world.

In the public schools of the land should be a text-book upon the wheel, its inventor, and the story of its application ever since. It has made more men think than any other single invention. It has changed the path of human progress in thousands of directions.

The most interesting phase of a man's life is not his immediate fame or high achievement, but the steps that led up to these. The teachings of the past contain the lessons by which we evolve plans ahead.

Napoleon conquered all Europe, but he lacked the moral background to complete his task successfully into a permanent unit. This is why the hordes of Hitler will fall. The states (nations) of Europe can never be held together in one compact union without into consideration the simplest and most urgent pleas, hopes, and aspirations of the humblest inhabitant as a basic unit for such an enduring structure. And I would add right here that the spiritual aspiration of the peoples of Europe—as of everywhere—must be placed uppermost in any enduring plan for peace and happiness.

Christian civilization alone has every hope for permanence. The teachings of the past tell us this. Nothing ever uttered, or put into print, has surpassed The Sermon on the Mount. It remains as the one eternal charter of hope in the world, if enacted in the hearts of us all.

Busy At Silk Mill: With 240 men and women working on the day and night shifts at the local plant of the J. H. and C. K. Eagle Company and prospects bright for a continued heavy demand for the silk products manufactured at the factory here, conditions are just the reverse from those of last year at this time. The plant has every machine operating on a full time schedule.

Remodeling Building: Remodeling of the building of Charles T. Ziegler, Chambersburg street, is under way. According to present plans the entire front of the structure will be rebuilt.

Fire Destroys School House: Fire of unknown origin which broke out at 1 o'clock Monday morning, completely destroyed Bingham's school in Franklin township. Miss Helen Kump, of Cashtown, is teacher of the school in which there are 36 students.

It is believed that the fire originated through carelessness of persons who are known to have made the school porch a loafing place.

Elks Honor Dead With Exercises: Impressive and inspiring exercises dedicated to the sixteen deceased members of Gettysburg Lodge, No. 1045, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, were held at the Lincoln Way Theatre, Sunday afternoon.

Surrounding Dr. Walter H. O'Neal, Exalted Ruler of the Gettysburg Elks, on the stage were the officers of the lodge seated before flag-draped tables. Rev. Dr. A. E. Wagner gave the main address of the afternoon.

Registration Of 18-Year Olds Starts On Friday

FIX HOURS FOR ENROLLING IN ADAMS COUNTY

Eighteen-year-olds may register at the two county draft board offices, beginning Friday. The offices will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. excepting on Saturdays. The office of Board No. 1 at New Oxford will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon and the office of Board No. 2 in the First National bank building here from 8:30 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. on Saturdays.

Washington, Dec. 10 (AP)—Youths who have become 18 since last June 30 start registering tomorrow for induction into the armed forces.

Selective service estimates there are more than a half-million in this age group, but many of them already have enlisted.

The schedule, calling for three one-week registration periods for youths grouped by their birth dates:

December 11 to 17, inclusive—those born on or after July 1, 1924, but not after August 31, 1924.

December 18 to 24, inclusive—those born on or after September 1, 1924, but not after October 31, 1924.

December 25 to 31, inclusive—those born on or after November 1, 1924, but not after December 31, 1924.

Inductions Uncertain
Inductions of youths of these ages were expected to vary to some extent depending upon preparations made by local boards to meet draft calls with older men and also on how rapidly the boards can classify the younger group for service.

The War department, meantime, announced that the order suspending voluntary enlistment will not interfere with the Army's volunteer officer candidate program. However, men who have passed their 38th birthday will not be accepted as candidates although those who had been ordered by December 5 to report for induction will be taken for training.

The order in which 18-year-old youths will be classified for induction will be determined by their birth dates with the oldest coming first.

Traveling Registrants
Those traveling during their registration period will register with a draft board in the place where they happen to be, but their cards will be forwarded to their home boards, which will include the registrants in their quotas and have permanent jurisdiction over them.

Those having more than one place of residence will register wherever they are at the time, but may choose between their residences for purposes of assignment to a local board.

Youths who become 18 after December 31 must register on their birthday dates. This group is expected to average about 100,000 a month.

Any 18 or 19-year-old registrant attending high school who is ordered to report for induction during the last half of an academic year may have his induction postponed until the end of the academic year upon written request to his draft board.

Affects Married Men
Addition of the new registrants to the list of draft eligibles will postpone to some extent the induction of childless married men, but their addition has been offset in part by the recent stoppage of induction of those 38 or older.

A number of problems arising from suspension of voluntary enlistment and adoption of 37 as the maximum age for Army selectees still awaits solution, War department officials said.

The status of men 37, who are subject to induction although they may reach their 38th birthdays long before their military training is complete, also is uncertain. Unofficially, the Army's attitude was reported to be against accepting men who will be able to obtain discharges within a year.

3 NABBED FOR BANK SWINDLES

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Three men who the Federal Bureau of Investigation said were wanted in several cities for bank swindles totaling $250,000 were called before a United States commissioner Wednesday on charges involving attempt to fleece the National Bank of Olney (Philadelphia) of $4,000.

An FBI spokesman said a bank clerk's suspicions led to their arrest when an effort was made to take the money yesterday by passing a forged check.

The spokesman identified the men as Charles Darcy, 40, and Anthony Bonelli, 39, both of Chicago, and Peter Green, 50, of New York, and said they had been accused in San Francisco, Denver, Minneapolis and Chicago.

They were charged here with conspiracy to pass forged checks and commit larceny against a national bank.

Flashes of Life

COULDN'T FOOL HER

Waterbury, Conn. (AP)—Knowledge of her husband's habits won for Mrs. William Bellemare $20 in cash.

Bellemare, before Judge John L. Gaffney in a support case, turned his pockets inside out to show he had no funds.

Mrs. Bellemare suggested her husband's shoes, which yielded three $10 bills. The court ordered him to pay his wife $17 weekly for six months.

SLIGHT ERROR

Towanda, Pa. (AP)—A 65-year-old man answered readily when the hunting license clerk asked his age, address, occupation, color of eyes and nationality—but was stumped when she queried:

"Did you report what you got last year?"

"Say," he replied, "I'm applying for a marriage license, not a hunting license."

She sent him to the recorder's office across the hall.

STRIP TEASE

Williamsport, Pa. (AP)—Maynard Brown doesn't know who to blame—scrap collectors or thieves.

He told police that while his nine-year-old automobile was parked in a street, someone walked away with the rear wheels, springs, drive shaft and assembly.

INITIATIVE

Denver (AP)—A group of businessmen in Douglas, Wyo., really mean business about bringing in scrap metal.

They trekked 40 miles into the mountains and spent five days wrecking a 20-ton steam engine. Then they had to build six temporary bridges and several miles of road to haul the pieces to Douglas.

It cost them $260, but it boosted their salvage total to 250,000 pounds.

DEGAULLE ASKS DARLAN OUSTER

London, Dec. 10 (AP)—While Prime Minister Churchill was explaining Britain's attitude toward Admiral Darlan in a secret session of the House of Commons, General Charles de Gaulle obliquely suggested that the former Vichy collaborationist be dropped "as quickly as possible."

The leader of the Fighting French made his point in this question which he asked during a speech to the Anglo-American Press association of Paris:

"If it happens that for a brief instant some obstacle leads a state to make some slight detour from her path don't you think it essential that that state should abandon the detour as quickly as possible or risk permeating her effort with great moral anxiety?"

Up to President

The secret session followed several days of criticism in and out of Parliament of the designation of Darlan as high commissioner in French Africa, a role which has been described by President Roosevelt as a temporary military expedient.

Before the session was closed to the public Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, pressed by Laborite Bevan for a statement on Darlan, declared:

"This matter already is governed and remains governed by the President of the United States of America and the statement I have made."

(President Roosevelt has described the understanding between Admiral Darlan and Lieut. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower as a temporary arrangement.)

25-POINT DEER

Uniontown, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Game Warden L. E. Shearer said the 25-point deer which Donald Livingston, 23-year-old house-painter, bagged was the biggest killed in this vicinity in several decades and also had more points than any of them. Livingston's trophy weighed 235 pounds hog-dressed. He shot it in the mountains near Elliptown.

YANKS TO GET OWN PAPER IN NORTH AFRICA

By NOLAND NORGARD

Algiers, Dec. 6 (Delayed) (AP)—The Stars and Stripes is going to press with a North African edition.

The first issue of the U. S. Doughboy's newspaper on this new war front is due to appear this week, beginning as a weekly.

But its editor, Staff Sergeant Robert Neville, of New York city, is hopeful that soon it may come out as a semi-weekly or even as a daily. He formerly was on the editorial staff of Time magazine.

The initial issue is the product largely of two men—Neville and his mechanical staff who right now is just Sergeant Irving Levinson of Stamford, Connecticut.

The new publication is a product of the combined efforts of the Stars and Stripes in London and the staff of Yank, the Army magazine, in North Africa. Comic strips as well as latest developments in the war and the news from home will be brought to the troops.

News Is Scarce

The U. S. troops here have a vast need for such a publication. They have been poring over French-language papers attempting to learn what's going on in the world, but French-English dictionaries disappeared long ago and radio receivers are unobtainable.

Last month's football scores are still passed around orally as hot news.

Levinson is setting type for the new paper—with difficulty. He gets well-meant but often confusing help from the French typesetters in L'Echo d'Algiers, which was long a pro-Alled paper but managed to hide from the Axis Armistice commission a stock of newsprint on which the Stars and Stripes will be printed.

And there are no dollar signs on the French typesetting machines, even though they are American made.

CONSPIRATOR IS IN CUSTODY

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10 (AP)—Government agents lost little time Monday in taking Howard Victor Broenstrup, 56, to Washington to face trial on a charge of seditious conspiracy, after his efforts to prevent removal failed in federal court.

Broenstrup was the last of 28 indicted on similar charges last July to be taken into custody. He denied the charges, saying he did not know some of the persons named and had never been a member of the Silver Shirts, Ku Klux Klan, German American Bund or other such organizations.

Meantime, a reassembled grand jury here indicted five others, including Adelaide Marion Pelley, of Noblesville, Ind., daughter of William Dudley Pelley, head of the Silver Shirts, on charges of conspiracy to harbor and conceal Broenstrup in a cottage at New Galilee, Pa., where he was arrested two weeks ago.

Also indicted were Marguerite Marie Carmichael, arrested with Broenstrup, Victor Hoyer, a machine shop owner of New Castle, Pa., Henry Meine, New Galilee florist, and Frank Mariner, of Poland, Ohio.

20 VESSELS AT TOULON INTACT

Washington, Dec. 10 (AP)—Secretary of Navy Knox reported Tuesday that 75 French ships of all types in Toulon harbor when the Germans moved in, 20 apparently were left intact, 51 were sunk or damaged or are now unaccounted for and four escaped.

The vessels damaged—some of which at least may be reclaimed—included three battleships, the Dunkerque, Strasbourg and Provence, he said.

The vessels classified by the Navy here as "afloat and apparently intact" included two light cruisers, three destroyer leaders, three destroyers, four submarines, two gunboats, one demilitarized battleship and 5 tankers.

Those which escaped as had been previously known were four submarines.

Greensburg, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—A hundred dogs are under quarantine and four persons, one undergoing treatment, as the result of a 24-hour rampage by a ten-week-old German Police dog suffering with rabies.

SOLON SCORES SUIT AGAINST "FREE PRESS"

Washington, Dec. 10 (AP)—Describing the Justice department's anti-monopoly suit against The Associated Press as "evidence of a determined effort on the part of the bureaucrats at Washington to freeze the Bill of Rights," Representative Plumley (R-Vt) asserted today there was "no justifiable excuse for an attack on freedom of the press."

"If press and political freedom are to live, this suit should be thrown out of court," the New Englander said in a speech prepared for delivery in the House.

"The people stand to be the big losers. If, by any chance, this suit is lost, the people will have been deprived of one of the safeguards of democracy."

He described the action as "more than a lawsuit" and said it was "an effort to take something away from the people that is needed now as never before in our history."

Worse than Court Issue
"The monopoly suit against The Associated Press seeks to accomplish a total governmental control, to constitute a greater monopoly, as it, under its guise of relief for the public, would allegedly destroy a lesser," Plumley said.

"In the attempt of the administration circuitously and surreptitiously to throttle a free press, there is concealed a weapon even more potent and dangerous and poisonous than was its effort to control the court."

He said the government "already holds the power of life and death over radio," and gives orders to the motion picture industry, leaving the newspapers as "our bulwark, frank, free and fearless."

Unbiased Reporting
"The very nature of The Associated Press organization," he said, "guarantees objective reporting, an unbiased and uncolored report of each of the events about which it tells. That is what the New Deal hates."

"The right of association of men or of newspapers with associates of their own choice in free speech or a free press is a fundamental right—as fundamental as the Bill of Rights itself. Of what profit is the liberty of citizens if the free speech right is sustained but no one permitted to come and hear? Or what of a demand that news shall be gathered, printed and made public only when done in conjunction with all comers? A fundamental American right is threatened in this suit against The Associated Press. If it is lost, the whole American people are the losers, not just The Associated Press."

1600 DEFENSE WORKERS STRIKE

Johnstown, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Six departments of the Bethlehem Steel company plant here which are producing armor plate for naval destroyers were closed Wednesday by a walkout which CIO united steelworkers said was caused by a dispute over interpretation of President Roosevelt's wage-freezing order.

Eugene Maurice, local director of the union, said 1,500 men in the slab, plate, 40-inch, 34-inch and blooming mills and the open hearth department were out.

The company announced the mills and department were closed. Other departments of the huge Johnstown works were functioning normally. The strikers are only a fraction of the total number of employees.

NAZIS TAKE 100 LYON HOSTAGES

London, Dec. 10 (AP)—Fighting French headquarters asserted Wednesday the Germans had taken 100 hostages from the population of Lyon in reprisal for an attack on a German soldier there on Dec. 1 and that the hostages were reported now to be awaiting execution.

The fighting French said this was the first instance of taking hostages in what was unoccupied France before Hitler's Nov. 11 occupation of the whole country, although scores have been executed in the old occupied zone. Some of the Lyon hostages are women.

"On Nov. 29," the headquarters statement said, "a pro-German demonstration was organized in the Place Belle Cour at Lyon. The demonstration was broken up by crowds which hurled insults at Nazi troops who intervened to restore order."

"On Dec. 1 an attack was made on the life of a German soldier in Lyon. One hundred men and women were chosen immediately at random from the population of Lyon and are now awaiting execution in the prison Centrale."

MANGLED TURIN GIVEN HEAVIER BLASTING BY RAF

London, Dec. 10 (AP)—Striking with even greater power than the previous night, a strong force of Royal Air Force bombers hurled another mass of explosives last night upon mangled Turin, apparently striving to deal the death stroke to the once great Italian industrial city on the river Po.

An authoritative statement said: "Turin again was attacked last night by a strong force of our bombers."

"Three of our aircraft are missing."

"The Italian high command said that Turin was subjected to another heavy air raid last night, adding that 'on the whole damage was great.'"

"Many buildings were hit and numerous fires were started," the daily communique said.

"The number of victims from the preceding raid (Tuesday night's heavy attack by the RAF) are 75 dead and 112 wounded. The losses of last night are not yet known."

Smash Industries

Turin, royal arsenal city, had been heaped with destruction and fire only the night before and the return last night for the sixth raid in less than a month testified to the RAF's determination to smash Italian industry in one phase of the effort to knock Italy from the war.

Observers on the southeast coast said the planes streamed across the English channel for 90 minutes last night and were subjected to heavy anti-aircraft fire from German batteries on the French coast upon their return this morning from the round-trip crossing of the Alps.

Air alarms were sounded in Swiss centers and the Swiss telegraph agency said that the Swiss minister in London had been instructed to make a "very firm" protest against RAF flights over the nation.

It said he was told to call the British government's attention to "the urgent necessity" of respecting Switzerland's neutrality.

Seaman Declares He Murdered Man

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—A 29-year-old Portland, Oregon, seaman walked into police headquarters here and, Police Captain William Engle said, announced he was a murderer. "My conscience bothers me," Engle quoted the man, who was booked as Paul F. Johnson, "I killed a man on the west coast and I want to give myself up."

Engle wired Portland police and the reply said only that he was wanted on charges of aggravated assault and battery, holdup and robbery.

Police held him for extradition to Portland.

This Is What Hitler Teaches

At the German Frontier, Dec. 10 (AP)—People in Germany were in love "because they didn't know any better in those days," the Nazi newspaper Das Schwarze Korps, organ of Hitler's SS Elite guards, declares.

Answering indirectly the recent protests of German Catholic bishops against the state of German morals under the Nazi regime, the newspaper sharply condemns young girls who hesitate over quick marriages to soldiers.

Scorning at "hopeless romanticism" and endorsing the goal of more babies for the Reich, Das Schwarze Korps expresses approval of colorful flowers of flirtation blooming along soldiers' paths.

The newspaper admits, however, that many young girls from "Bourgeois Cuckoo Homes in Clouds" still avoid hasty unions with soldiers because "there is no assurance of employment after the war and they might be left to care alone for their children."

HERSHEY HEADS DRAFT BUREAU

Washington, Dec. 10 (AP)—The system Wednesday became a bureau within the War Manpower commission, and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey's status changed from that of system director to bureau chief.

Chairman Paul V. McNutt, of the manpower commission, in ordering the change under the broadened authority given him by President Roosevelt, made this comment:

"It permits the Selective Service organization to continue its present functions and duties without change, subject to the direction and supervision of the executive director."

Formal incorporation of Selective Service into the War Manpower commission raised the number of employees under McNutt, including those in field offices, to approximately 80,000 and made his staff one of the government's largest.

WARD DEFIES LABOR BOARD ON UNIONISM

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

Washington, Dec. 10 (AP)—Montgomery Ward & company gave the War Labor board today its third serious test on the issue of union security.

The big mail order house challenges the board's authority to order it to sign an agreement containing a maintenance of union membership clause, an order which President Roosevelt has supported.

Although lacking any enforcement power of its own, the present board has not yet been defeated. In cases of defiance the President, as commander-in-chief, has come to its support with troops.

The common form of maintenance of membership, which most employer members of the board have come to accept generally, does not require any present or future employee to join the union. Those already in the union have 15 days to get out and are put on notice that if they don't get out in that time they bind themselves to stay in for the duration of the contract, usually a year. New employees may join or not, but if they join they are bound to stay in while the contract lasts.

Montgomery Ward and other opponents of union maintenance say it violates individual liberties. The board says it is a reconciliation of individual liberty and union security.

Father Joins Search For Missing Flier

Johnstown, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Boyd M. Wagner, Sr., father of Lieut.-Col. Boyd M. Wagner, Jr., Johnstown aerial hero of the South Pacific who has been missing for 11 days, has gone south to aid Army officials in the search for his son. He and an uncle, Andrew Moody, conferred yesterday with Army officials in Washington and then went to Florida to join in the search. The flying ace and his one-seated plane were missing on a routine flight from Elgin field, Florida to Alabama.

EDUCATOR DIES

Haverford, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Mrs. Jane W. Bartlett, former educator who helped Dr. Edwin James to establish the association of political and social science, died Tuesday in her home. She was 85. She formerly taught at Friends' Select school, of which her husband, J. Henry, formerly was principal.

Ward's contends that "liberty requires that an employee be free to join or to resign from a union without jeopardizing his livelihood" and that the order "required Ward's to interfere with the free choice of its employees to resign from the union" because Ward's would have to dismiss an employee who quit the union after the 15-day period.

Valonis, 42, a war plant machinist. Vito Frisco, 23, of Newark, told Wachenfeld through his attorney, Perry E. Belfatto, that he was "beaten about the ribs, nose and right eye" by Newark police all day Saturday in order to extract his "confession" of the crime.

Frisco said further that he made a statement Sunday in the presence of disinterested witnesses that he was "treated fine" because he feared further beatings. He said his right eye was still showing signs of the beating when he made the Sunday statement.

Captain Frank O'Neill of the Newark police said Monday that Frisco and Anthony Cavalcire, 18, also of Newark, had reenacted the mugging of Valonis for police, although they did not know at the time that their victim had died.

The attack occurred November 15 and Valonis died five days later at a hospital in his home town of Shenandoah, Pa. His assailants got only 40 cents.

Chapter 16

Reunion

Rita woke from a night of chaotic dreams the morning after Carlos had gone to Frisco. She donned blue sharkskin slacks and a white silk shirt, brushed her red-gold hair till it fell in crisp, shining waves about her face, then hurried down to the beach.

She felt wan and exhausted this morning, not able to stand the strain of the memories her dreams had roused. Doc Burrows said she must keep her mind off her problems till she was rested. She walked the mile to Carlos' shack and gradually the damp fragrance of the morning, the whispering of the tall pines, the tumbling rush of the blue water on white sand helped to soothe her frayed nerves.

She centered her mind resolutely on Carlos' amusing fear of poisoning, a fetish to cover his hospitable nature, which had caused him much unpleasantness from neighboring innkeepers! He wouldn't be back until Sunday probably. Her heart, pounding suddenly with warm excitement, warned her she mustn't think of Carlos. She knew it was because Carlos was with Clark Pasquin that she had had the wild night of dreams.

Carlos was seeing Clark, talking to him... hearing that humorous, friendly voice, watching his strong, well-shaped hands gesturing as he talked.

Desperately she hurried along the pine-bordered path. Her trouble and pain temporarily cut off memories but now, sharply etched by emotion the vision of her last evening with Clark... the soft throbbing background of city traffic... the strength of his arms around her, his eyes searching hers, his voice a low whisper, "You don't believe I'm in love with you."

Well, he hadn't been, she told herself fiercely. And she wasn't in love with him! It was only a passing meeting. He'd forgotten it. So had she. So had she. She was almost running now, in an effort to stop

Letters To The Editor

November 27, 1942.

Dear Sirs:
Your letter of September 28th arrived here today. I should like to tell you how much I appreciate receiving The Gettysburg Times out here. It is indeed one very nice way of hearing about friends at home.

There are so many things I should like to say to everyone at home but simply can't.

At the present time we are having very hot weather and it is quite a contrast to what we expect at home at this season.

We had a very nice Thanksgiving here with American turkey and all the trimmings and though we can't spend Christmas at home our thoughts certainly will be with those of our family and friends.

There is a need for nurses here just as there is a need for them at home. We certainly feel that there is nothing too good for the soldiers here and they certainly are doing their part so that we may all come home to peace and happiness again.

Sincerely,
L. Jeanne E. Hoffman,
C-O Postmaster,
San Francisco, Calif.

Dear Sir:
I was at Manteo, North Carolina, guarding the coast down there for two months from Caffey's Inlet to Cape Hatteras. Manteo, the place where we were midway between the two posts, 60 miles from each. When we came in the morning off guard our "Gettysburg Times," were always there for us and we could hardly wait till we ate our chow to read the news from back home. If it hadn't been for "The Gettysburg Times," and letters from my sweetheart and friends back home I would of sure felt lost. That's about all that kept us from going A. W. O. L. and coming home to see what was going on.

We are now at Camp Thalia, Virginia, building barracks but get our mail from Pendleton as before. We are putting up barracks now for our winter quarters and are still in tents.

Thanks a lot and may you have the nicest, happiest Christmas this year than ever.

John R. Mickle
Camp Thalia, Virginia

Dear Sirs:
I want to thank you for the very kind service that you are bestowing on me and the other service men by sending us your paper.

A paper from the home community is something that pleases the "boys." Our letters from home, tell us of the things that happens there but the news paper tell us of the community news.

I am not so far from home as some of the boys are and am very thankful of that. Now that I'm receiving your paper I seem closer than before.

The United States Coast Guard is a fine organization and they have a tough job to do. I am happy to say that they are capable for the job, whether patrolling the beach, conveying ships or landing soldiers.

Again I want to thank you for sending me the paper. I certainly appreciate it so much.

Sincerely yours,
Kenneth L. Beam, A. S. (R)
U. S. Coast Guard
Amagansett Life Boat Sta.
Amagansett, L. I., N. Y.

Dear Sirs:
I think your special servicemen's copy of The Gettysburg Times is a very good idea. I wish to thank you for sending me the paper. I sure would miss it a lot if I didn't get it.

Sincerely yours,
Cpl. Lloyd Shank
Gardner Field, California

Dear Sir:
I have received The Gettysburg Times since January, 1941, here at Carlisle Barracks and I certainly appreciate reading it very much. Although I'm not as far from home as some of the fellows, I enjoy it just as much.

I just wait for the paper to get here and just as soon as I'm finished there is always somebody waiting to read it. It keeps me informed on the camps my buddies go to and how they are doing.

Carlisle Barracks is a training school for officers and we also have an Officer Candidate's school here. Our job is teach, through demonstration, the operation of a Medical Battalion and how to do things in actual field conditions. Every demonstration is broken down into steps so students get a thorough knowledge of how to do it later as the real thing. Besides that we have our guard to do and about everything else they do in the Army. We also get our share of hiking, anywhere

Dear Sirs:
Today is the first day of my sixteenth month of service. I have never written before, but just the same have not forgotten the kindness of "The Gettysburg Times" and my relatives and friends in Adams County for their most welcome letters.

My army training has been made up of the following: Radio operation, radio mechanic and "secret work." This work has taken me over most of the United States.

I am enjoying my training and experience in the Army. Meeting and making new friends is also a pleasure for me.

Thanks again for my copy of the Times.

Yours very truly,

Middle East Forces,
Nov. 22, 1942.

Dear Sir:
At this time we sure are busy and you should see the boys work. Since the push was started we have a lot more work to do. Really our boys have their hearts and souls in the job we have to do.

We are proud of the fact that we were the first company of American Soldiers in the Middle East. Windell Willkie gave us a very interesting talk when he was here. I heard from my brother Jack and he told me that Capt. Snyder of Gettysburg gave a talk in High School. His talk I am sure was very interesting and it was also about the same kind of work we are doing. I had heard Capt. Snyder was over here in the Middle East but didn't know where he was stationed. Another one of my school mates is over here and his name is John Linn of Cashtown, Penna. Yes, I know both of these boys and I am really proud of them. Surely, Gettysburg, a Holy Shrine is represented by its boys a lot of places on the Globe.

Victory will be ours very soon cause we the soldiers here, and other places in the World want a free country forever and ever.

Gruff, Old Simon Lee Was Truly A Friend To Santa Claus On Christmas Eve

VILLAGE KIDS
FINALLY HAVE A MERRY XMAS

By ELSIE SINGMASTER

It was twelve o'clock on Christmas Eve when Mary Sadler, alone in her schoolhouse, heard the alarming sound of men's voices. She was twenty years old and looked sixteen. Though wrapped in a coat and shawl she moved lightly; her brown eyes danced, she interrupted her work only to stamp her feet or breathe on her fingers.

Working by candlelight, she had decorated the blackboard with a figure of Santa Claus in red, had hung spruce boughs about the room, and had piled on her desk a gift for each man, woman, and child in Blue Hill Village. She was the only person on the lonely mountain who kept vigil. The Blue Hill Villagers paid no heed on Christmas Eve; they went to bed just as early as on any other evening, and they felt no heavenly thrill. Mary was thinking sadly of their indifference when she heard the voices, and the sound of tramping feet.

"Strangers" About

Who in the world could be abroad? Blue Hill Village lay in the bottom of an inverted cone whose steep sides were forest-clad slopes. The hills were covered with snow, and unbroken snow filled the street, in which no path would be dug until morning. Except John McIntyre, who brought mail to the village, few persons came or went. Simon Lee, who had gone away a week ago to claim his fortune, would certainly not return before Christmas, if he returned at all.

Wildly Mary looked about. The outer door was not locked; in a moment the strangers would enter. They seemed to be approaching by way of the old wood road at the rear of the schoolhouse. Mary was terrified; blowing out her candles, she ran the short distance from the front of the room to the back and there slipped into the cloak cupboard.

How About Christmas

"It has a look," she thought. "And a window toward the village. Perhaps, perhaps, I could make someone hear!"

Early in November she had broached the subject of Christmas to Mrs. Lucas, with whom she lived. "Don't the children even hang up their stockings?"

Mrs. Lucas looked solemnly out the window. This teacher was the best that Blue Hill Village had ever had, and the prettiest and kindest; she seemed to like the mountains, she seemed to like the children, and their fathers and mothers. Other teachers had been friendly in the beginning and then, when winter came, had fled, not to return; or, if they remained, remained in homesickness and unhappiness. Blue Hill Village forgot even their names, or remembered them only as "her with the red shawl," or "the one that squinted." The teachers said that Blue Hill Village was "impossible," "dreadful," "hideous." None of these things was true.

No Presents to Give

Mrs. Lucas turned from the window to look at Mary. She had seen, across the road with the other children, her little lame Will.

"We have nothing to put in stockings. Why, I have to save up to get a package of needles!"

Later in November, Mary approached Mrs. Lucas again. "Did you never have a tree in the schoolhouse?"

"No," answered Mrs. Lucas. "We never had a tree."

"But a tree would cost nothing," persisted Mary. "We could make the trimmings out of popcorn and gilded nuts and—"

Mrs. Lucas was a little tired of inquiries about the Blue Hill Village Christmas. "When you spend your whole life, week in, week out, year in, year out, making something out of nothing, you don't celebrate Christmas."

Appeals to Shoemaker

Early in December Mary went to see Simon Lee, the shoemaker, a silent and unfriendly little man, who sewed and tapped and tapped and sewed all day long in his little shop. Sitting at his window, he could see every house in the village. He not only mended the village shoes but made them, so far were the inhabitants behind the rest of the world. Only the boldest children ventured to the window, and none except Will Lucas ever went inside. When they had to be measured for shoes, they approached trembling. Will Lucas, on the other hand, was very saucy to Simon. Sometimes he played tricks on him, and the other children shouted from afar, and Simon scolded furiously.

Even after Simon knew that he was to have a fortune, his disposition did not change. The fortune was a long time coming; the selfish cousin who had it in his power to postpone the settlement of an uncle's estate delayed it for ten years.

Mary approached Simon bravely. His gruffness was unaccountable, because he constantly scolded the children about their slowness in learning and their lack of manners, and she was doing her best to remedy both faults. Besides, since they hung about her day and evening she relieved him of their annoying shouts and screams. Even Will Lucas came no more to perch on Simon's window-sill.

Mary had little money; she could not even take the journey to her home. But she could plan and she could beguile. She would beguile Simon Lee, who was now certain of having his fortune before Christmas.

Asks Toys for Kiddies

Simon did not stop his sewing and pounding while she talked. Occasionally he looked down at her shoes—poor, machine-sewed, good-for-nothing. When she pulled off her gloves and breathed on her hands, he must have seen that her hands were blue with cold, but her discomfort did not make him polite.

"The children have never had a real Christmas, Mr. Lee. We'll surprise them. We can decorate the schoolhouse and I'll make candy, and perhaps we can have a little gift for each."

Simon did not answer. "I thought perhaps you'd let me make the candy on your stove. If I make it at Lucas's, Will will know."

"Will's a bad boy."

Mary quickly left the subject of Will. "It would be so easy to please them. The girls have never had anything but rag dolls, and no boy ever had a train of cars. We can buy little dolls for almost nothing. Mr. Lee, and I'll dress them. A train could be divided, the engine to one boy and a car each to others. And books, Mr. Lee! Mary spoke more and more earnestly. "These children are crazy for books. They've read everything I have. If they had books, a great scholar might grow up here. They're very bright children. I made a long list." Mary took a paper from her pocket. "There are good inexpensive editions of some books. And the fathers and mothers ought to have something. I've made a good many things and I can make more. I thought—"

"No friend to Santa"

Simon laid down his needle and his awl and looked, finally, straight at Mary. "Who is to give these things?" he demanded.

Mary clasped her hands, half in hope, half in despair. "I thought we could say they came from Santa Claus. Will you help me, Mr. Lee? It won't take much money, only a little."

Simon Lee lifted his needle and threaded it deliberately. "The school board makes no provision for burning the fire on Christmas Day." That was his first sharp sentence. "I never had cars or trains or dolls or books."

That was the second. "I am"—here was the third which Simon roared at Mary: "I'm no friend to Santa Claus."

Mary went quickly, looking back over her shoulder in a frightened way and dropping her list of books on the floor. At that moment she understood why teachers fled from Blue Hill Village after three months.

Makes Xmas Gifts

Muttering, Simon picked up the paper from his tidy floor. It was well Mary did not hear him. "She can't do it," said he, with fierce satisfaction. "She hasn't the money to do it."

When, five days before Christmas,

Simon went down to the city to get his inheritance, there was much speculation in the village. How would he bring it back? Some expected him to carry his five hundred dollars in a bag; others explained about banks. There were those bold of fancy, who believed he would spend some of it at once. One person hazarded a guess that he might not come back at all.

Mary was thankful he was gone and she tried to forget him. She sewed early and late; in the afternoon in the little schoolroom until the dying fire left the room cold, and at night in her room at Mrs. Lucas's. She put initials in the corners of plain handkerchiefs, and knitted pulse-warmers and a few neckties, and wrote names in little inexpensive books. She had even a small box of toys. She kept a fire in the stove while she made taffy and popped corn. If objections were raised she would pay for the bucket of coal, or they could take its price from her salary.

Plans Entertainment

There would be an entertainment, though she had to do all the entertaining; there would be presents, though she had to make them. At ten o'clock on Christmas morning she would ring the schoolhouse bell. Thus, she stubbornly determined, she would establish a precedent in Blue Hill Village, which, once its children knew what Christmas was, would have to have a Christmas every year.

Now, on Christmas Eve, leaning terrified against the wall of the cloak cupboard, she forgot her entertainment, her plans for Blue Hill Village, everything but the danger in which she stood. It was midnight, she was alone, trapped. There was no possible reason for which anyone should seek the schoolhouse at this hour, unless it were to do her harm. She pressed the key again to be sure that it had turned in the lock, she looked up in desperation at the little window so high above her with its dim patch of sky. She heard, in addition to the men's voices, the creaking of a wagon. Perhaps, after all, they would pass by, perhaps they were going deeper into the woods on some errand which, though it might be wicked, had nothing to do with her.

"Thieves" In the Night

Alas! the wagon stopped and the schoolhouse door opened, the voices grew nearer and nearer, and there were strange bumpings and thumpings as though heavy articles were being moved. These were thieves who had come to hide their plunder temporarily, sure that the falling snow would conceal their tracks. For three days—Christmas Day and Saturday and Sunday—the schoolhouse was supposed not to be used.

She saw a gleam beneath the closet door, she heard the closer approach of heavy boots, the louder sound of voices. Hammerings and rendings of wood terrified her, and she let herself sink to the floor for fear that she might presently drop and the noise of her fall betray her. Evidently they were tearing up desks and benches.

How long the strangers moved about the schoolhouse she did not know. Once a hand was laid on the door and she gave herself up for lost. While she sat in a trance of fear the hand was taken away.

Either the trance was almost as heavy as sleep, or else, exhausted by many days and nights of teaching and sewing and crocheting, she really did sleep. When she came to herself the schoolroom was quiet. Yet the strangers might be hiding, might leap upon her, might carry her away in their wagon, which, for all she knew, still stood without. Cold and stiff, she crouched on the floor, the minutes passing like hours.

Was This Xmas Loot?

After a space of time which seemed as long as a whole day, the patch of sky brightened and she turned her head. Dawn was at hand! She sprang up and opened the closet door.

"Someone will have to pay for this," said she, suddenly very brave and very angry. "I'll fetch the sheriff myself!"

The strangers had not taken the property of Blue Hill Village, they had not stolen her pitiful little presents, they had turned the schoolroom into a storehouse! It was as she suspected—they were hiding some ill-gotten property, perhaps some loot from a country store. On the platform were boxes, on the desks were packages, in the aisles were bales.

Her anger and indignation growing, she lit a candle. It was evidently a toy store which had been robbed. Here was a doll's carriage, here a sled. The toy store was moreover, far from Blue Hill Village; only a city like the great city on the plain to which Simon Lee had gone to get his fortune could furnish such beautiful toys.

Gifts for Everyone

Such dolls she had never seen. Here were two footballs and half a dozen baseball bats. Here was a packing-case whose top had been removed. The wrapper inside was torn—longed-for titles dazzled her eyes; "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates," "Treasure Island," "Robinson Crusoe," "Honk, the Moose," "Henny's Lydia," "Bambi." On her own chair—now Mary knew that she had lost her mind—was a muff, a fur tippet and, of all things, a pair of shoes!

Mary lifted the shoes—they were handmade, they were substantial, they were beautiful. She looked about the room once more. As a confusion of mixed colors falls into orderly design with the application of a dark line, so did the confused impressions in Mary's mind. This line, a label as black as paint could make it, was on all the boxes, it was attached on tags, it was everywhere.

"To Teacher from Simon Lee," read Mary. "To Sally McIntyre from Simon Lee." "To John McIntyre from Simon Lee." "To Willy Lucas from Simon Lee"—what a pile! The name seemed to become larger and larger and blacker and blacker.

"It was Simon's voice," said Mary, awed. "He waited ten years for his fortune! Ten years for this."

An Excited Teacher

Mary believed that she was going to cry; then she thought better of it. The candle burned dimly, a rosy gleam dyed the whitewashed wall. She moved about, gathering up ex-celsior here, straightening a pile of boxes there, looping a little higher a rope of Princess pine. She grew more and more excited, remembering that Blue Hill Village rose with the sun. The Lucases would miss her, would search for her; in a few minutes the secret would be a secret no longer. It would be impossible to keep it until ten o'clock. Already, it seemed to Mary, she could hear alarmed, inquiring voices. She forgot that she had lost sleep every night for a month, forgot that she had not been in bed at all last night, forgot that she had ever been tired.

For an instant she stood hesitating, then she laughed aloud. She faced the blackboard, now brightly illuminated. Simon Lee had, after all, a use for Santa Claus. From the smiling lips of Mary's red chalk saint he had drawn a defiant scroll, larger than Santa Claus himself. Within the scroll was an inscription: "Merry Christmas from Simon Lee."

"Merry Christmas"

She could wait no longer, neither for her own Christmas nor for Blue Hill Village's Christmas. With both hands on the bell rope, knowing that the sound would bring every man, woman and child in Blue Hill Village to the door, she rang a mighty peal. On ordinary days the bell said: "Come to school! Come to school!" Now, for the first time since it had been hung in the tower, it said, so that no one could fail to understand: "Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas!"

—and tried to get more than his share of a scarce article. He is a hoarder.

Most people hoard instinctively, as a simple matter of self-preservation. But if they think a minute, they will see that hoarding destroys our national self-preservation, because it makes the war that much harder to win.

What if we are deprived of a little coffee, some extra sugar or gasoline? Must we live "as usual" when millions of our best young men and women are perhaps going thru the tortures of hell to protect the likes of you and me?

Or will we willingly, cheerfully set upon a voluntary course of self-denial to contribute our tiny bit to help win this war?

When tempted to hoard, think of Joe slugging his way thru a New Guinea jungle, or Bill racing across the blistering sands of Africa. Think of your own son or sweet-heart. Would they be proud of your hoarding?

Please think about these things.

LEGISLATURE MAY ADJOURN ON APRIL 15TH

Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—Ira T. Fiss, 54-year-old Snyder county contractor, has been slated for speaker by the Republican House majority, which also has called for a brief 1943 general assembly session.

The Republicans, meeting here yesterday in caucus, recommended that the House fix April 15 for adjournment of the session and proposed a March 15 deadline for introduction of bills.

The Senate Republican majority last week took similar action in supporting a request of Governor-elect Edward Martin that the session be brief "so we can get along with our war program."

Slating of Fiss practically assures him of election to the speaker post when the session convenes on Jan. 5.

Others Slated

Others slated for office are: Rep. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter of Lehigh, majority floor leader; Rep.

Walter E. Rose of Cambria, majority whip; William E. Habbyschaw, former Dauphin county assemblyman, chief clerk at $6,000; William R. Roan, Luzerne county, secretary at $5,000; Norman Wood, dean of the House from Lancaster, permanent chairman of the Republican caucus, and Herbert P. Sorg, Elk, secretary of the caucus.

Habbyschaw has been selected Senate librarian but state Chairman M. Harvey Taylor said it was done to "plug the hole temporarily" and another librarian would be selected later. It pays $1,500 a year less than the house chief clerk position.

URGES COOPERATION

Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director of Selective Service, has asked Pennsylvania's 422 local boards to "continue your vital work" under the War Manpower Commission. He added that Paul V. McNutt, manpower director, has assured the Selective Service system will operate the same under the direction of the commission "as heretofore."

Transpacific telephone weddings have been held invalid in some states.

WAR CURBING CAGE INTEREST

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10 (AP)—Chick Davies, starting his 19th year as basketball coach at Duquesne university, says the war is making it "virtually impossible" to get his boys steamed up over the game.

"We've got some good material and, of course, we'll use our old system, which has been good enough heretofore, but it's plain even at this early stage the boys won't be able to give the game the same zip," said Davies.

"That's because of the war, which has all of our minds on serving our country."

Davies predicted that "anything can and probably will happen" this season.

"Boys will be going away and the teams that start out strongest may be the weakest later," he said. "We're going to give the fans the best basketball we can, but here's hoping they don't expect too much."

Davies should know his subject. His teams consistently have made outstanding records. A few years ago the Dukes won 19 and lost only to Indiana. In 13 of his 19 years, Duquesne has lost no home games.

Chick got his job after he decided to quit working in a steel mill, make up necessary high school credits and enter Duquesne.

Later he became a teacher of English.

SNOW AND ROBIN

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Philadelphia had its heaviest snowfall of the season yesterday—and a woman saw a robin. A fall of 2.8 inches was reported between 5:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. At 10:30 a. m., Mrs. George K. Seidel reported, a robin appeared near her home. Presumably it was heading south.

URGE HOMES TO DIM-OUT

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—If the Philadelphia Defense Council has its way, every house in Philadelphia will appear dark every night—from the outside—after an Army dimout order goes into effect Dec. 21. The council has asked all householders voluntarily to lower all window shades to increase the effectiveness of the precaution against air raids. The Army's dim-out order requires only that large outdoor lights be shaded.

Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania's election registration lists contain 4,612,288 qualified voters of which 2,151,977 are men and 1,786,994 are women. Republicans total 2,603,104 men and women and Democrats 1,948,372.

FBI SEEKING WITNESSES IN FRAUD PROBE

Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—Civilian and government agents testified today before a grand jury as a nationwide search was pressed for additional witnesses in the investigation of charges of fraud and bribery in the construction of the huge Mechanicsburg Naval supply depot.

Former depot employees are being sought as far away as Los Angeles in hopes of obtaining more information for the jury, declared Tom C. Clark, chief of the Justice department's war frauds unit, as he explained the investigation is "progressing very satisfactorily."

"There appear to be some irregularities in construction of the depot," he added. "It's getting clearer. Several persons are involved."

Seek Many Workers

Clark said FBI agents are questioning former depot employees wherever they find them in the widened hunt and if any worthwhile information is obtained the men will be brought back to tell their story to the jury.

The federal official asserted that he and nine FBI men are hunting workers in this area—mostly laborers and mechanics—who once held jobs at the $40,000,000 supply base. Some of the missing witnesses, said a high government authority who declined to be quoted, had left their jobs within the last few days and are now being sought.

The grand jury inquiry opened shortly after U. S. Commissioner Sidney E. Friedman asserted there was "a solid basis in fact" in reports that "wholesale theft, bribery and embezzlement" at the depot had resulted in a million-dollar material and equipment shortage.

Murderer Jailed For Fist Fight

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—Thirty-two years ago Attorney James Gay Gordon represented Theodore Derry at his trial on a murder charge.

Yesterday Gordon, now a judge in quarter sessions court, sentenced Derry to a year in prison for a fist fight.

"I see by today's indictment you are quick with your fists," he told Derry, 52. "When I knew you last you were quick with a hatchet." Derry in 1910 received a five-to 20-year sentence for the hatchet murder of John Johnson.

TO COMPLETE WPA PROJECTS

Harrisburg, Dec. 10 (AP)—Pennsylvania WPA projects will continue until completed under instructions accompanying the recent Presidential order abandoning the agency.

The state still has approximately 26,000 WPA workers and State Administrator Richard Irvin said today many of these will be kept on the rolls until June although some of the smaller states will comply with the order by February 1.

"We were instructed to close out the agency in an orderly manner," he declared, "and we are following that policy."

Irvin said the approximately 2,000 workers in the re-employment training program probably will continue until June, adding "this service has placed 92 per cent of its trainees in better jobs and we'd like to offer the help as long as possible."

Finish Road Work
Highway projects will be completed as rapidly as possible, the administrator said. The nearly 19,000 construction workers putting in sewers, water lines, streets and similar works will be retained until these projects are put into "usable" condition.

The sewing project, which employs about 2,900, still has a large amount of material to be finished, delivered and stored. Other services, such as nursing schools, child feeding and health, employing approximately 5,900, will be closed as soon as possible, he said.

Irvin reported the 26,000 workers represented a payroll of about $1,620,000 a month and that the agency has 619 projects under operation. Peak WPA employment was in 1938 when there were 292,000 on the rolls.

JUDGE SCORES LA GUARDIA AS TIME WASTER

New York, Dec. 10 (AP)—A Queens county judge Tuesday censured Mayor La Guardia's anti-bingo activities and declared "we should stop this nonsense of having a dictator in the city of New York stand up and say that everything is going to be done the way he orders it to be done."

During a hearing in a bingo case, Judge Thomas Downs asserted:

"It does seem to me, at a time like this, that the mayor of our city should not squander the money of our city, wasting time chatting every Sunday over the radio, playing petty politics, because his name is off the front pages of the newspapers."

"The war news has taken him off the front page and he has to do something to make a nuisance of himself and get his name in the newspapers."

Wastes Time, Money
La Guardia, in one of his regular Sunday talks over the city's radio station, said bingo was unlawful even in church.

Downs' remarks came during a hearing for three men charged with violating the lottery law by operating a bingo. They were granted a jury trial, although such cases usually are tried in special sessions, without a jury.

Downs declared the mayor "has wasted his time and our money talking about this and making an issue of that," and said he did not see why good citizens who might have run a bingo for a worthy cause should be castigated "just because we have an excited police captain and because the mayor of our city is sounding off every Sunday, crying over the phone and chirping over the radio."

HONEST MAN

Mauch Chunk, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Bernard Gallagher can't figure it out. He opened a letter bearing a Texas postmark and out tumbled two crisp 10-dollar bills. The sender, who didn't sign his name, said the money was to repay an old loan. Gallagher can't recall it.

TRACK-WALKER KILLED

Pittsburgh, Dec. 10 (AP)—Mike Portig, 59, of Trafford, a track-walker for the Pennsylvania railroad, was struck and killed Tuesday when he stepped from a track he was inspecting into the path of a speeding passenger train.

REVEALS "KEY" TO AFRICAN PUSH

Williamsport, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—The "keyhole" to the second AEF's daring invasion of Africa was a narrow river in French Morocco—and a "suicide" unit of Navy volunteers was the key that opened the door, a 20-year-old sailor disclosed upon his return to the United States.

"It was a voluntary job, but to tell the truth, it was a suicide squad," Kenneth E. Probst of Williamsport wrote friends here from New England where he is spending his leave.

"Our objective was to go up and take an airport. It was 12 miles up the river. We never expected to come out alive, for once we started up the river we couldn't turn back."

"Boy, you don't know what a feeling you get when things begin to pop. It took about three minutes for me to get in the groove. I had a 20-millimeter gun to fire, plus my 45 I had on me. In simple language it was hell.

"If we didn't get up that river, you would not have your second front today. From the time we started we were under constant firing from batteries on the shore. I tell you I am a mighty lucky fellow, thank God."

Monthly Support Order Is Reduced

Philadelphia, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Superior court has reduced from $766 to $500 a monthly support order against Caleb J. Milne, 3rd, for his estranged wife, Frederica, of New York city.

Municipal court ordered the higher allowance immediately after distribution of the estate of Milne's father, wealthy textile manufacturer, who died in May, 1941.

The lower court held that Mrs. Milne was entitled to the higher allowance because she had previously "shared his adversity and now

3 CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH

Point Marion, Pa., Dec. 10 (AP)—Three children who had been locked in their four-room home by their widowed mother burned to death in a fire which destroyed the house late Monday.

The victims were Matthew Jones, 10, Anna, 5, and Viola, 1.

Mrs. Viola Jones, 30, whose husband was killed by a train three months ago, had left her five children in the tiny mining community of Nilan to visit a neighbor some distance away. She returned in time to help neighbors save two—Ethel, 6, and Alex, 8.

Fayette county Coroner Lee R. Herrington said the woman told him she locked and bolted the doors because she thought the children would be safer inside the house. She was gone about two hours.

Ethel said the children upset a small coal stove while playing, starting the fire.

"The door was locked and we couldn't get out," the girl sobbed. She and Alex remained overnight at the Uniontown hospital, but were not seriously injured, attendants said.

Only last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell and their two children burned to death at White House, not far from here, in a fire believed to have started from an overheated stove.

Why Be Troubled By Wartime Constipation?

Avoid one of the common causes—lack of "bulk"!

No wonder so many folks feel "all done in" these war days! It's the way we live—longer hours, harder work, irregular eating habits. And in this hurry-burry, meals are apt to be rushed, improperly balanced—and the important matter of "bulk" overlooked.

What a difference getting enough "bulk" might make! For lack of it is one of the common causes of constipation. In such cases, medicinal laxatives are only "make-shift" remedies; they don't correct the cause! But eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly and drinking plenty of water can prevent or overcome this trouble. For this delicious cereal supplies the necessary "bulk." Start eating ALL-BRAN today. ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.
